Slough sign Dylan

DYLAN Evans, a former Loakes Park favourite, will be attempting to halt Wycombe Wanderers when he plays for Slough Town in their Hitachi Cup third round match at Wexham Park tonight (Tuesday).

Evans, one of the players involved in the wages row at Hillingdon, signed for Slough on a free transfer last week and played in their 1-0 victory at Billericay on Saturday.

Terry Reardon, the Slough boss, spoke to Evans during Wycombe's Middlesbrough XI reunion match at Loakes Park last weekend.

Striker Evans will be hoping to break down a Wanderers defence in which centre half Anton Vircavs has looked a little shaky. Steve Hardwick, formerly of Wycombe, misses the game as he is serving a three match suspension for three bookings.

Kennedy doubt

There is still a doubt about Wycombe midfield ace Howard Kennedy, suffering from an injured ankle. He wants to play but may be rested with Saturday's F.A. Cup trip to Barnet in mind.

Barnet, themselves, are showing better form week by week. On Saturday they won 2-0 at Weymouth, their third successive victory after a bad spell.
