

Hunt is in plaster after freak injury

A FREAK accident during Wycombe Wanderers' Suburban League North Division victory at Staines Reserves on Saturday has left striker Andy Hunt with a leg in plaster.

Hunt tore the ligaments in his knee when he went in for a tackle in the 60th minute. He was left in agony after the injury to his non-tackling leg.

He was rushed from the Staines ground by reserves team sponge-man Fred Edwards to Loakes Park for first team physio Dave Springell to have a look. Springell in turn whisked Hunt around the corner to Wycombe General Hospital where the knee was put in plaster.

The injury to Hunt will add to the selection problems manager Keith Mead already faces as his side attempt to win the Berks and Bucks Intermediate Cup.

The loss of Hunt overshadowed yet another fine team performance by the reserves who are rising rapidly up the Suburban League table and have conceded only one league goal since November. Tim Lee gave Wycombe the lead at half-time, and then after the break Mark Richardson added a second to make both points safe.

Control

A draw at mid-table Collier Row cost Beaconsfield United the leadership of the London Spartan League Senior Division. Chris Dixon put Beaconsfield ahead in the first half with a chipped effort, but seven minutes into the second period defender John Harris gave away a penalty with a foul for which he was booked.

The resulting goal sparked Collier Row into action, but when Beaconsfield regained control of the match Ian Barber was denied the winner with a brilliant save.

Amersham Town did not have a match in the Premier Division — giving Dennis Smith's team an extra week to brood over their 7-1 loss to Chingford.

Marlow manager John Clements must have been chuffed on Saturday night. Dave Warwick, whom he had only signed from Windsor and Eton the day before, netted the first goal in Marlow's 2-1 against Fleet in the Athenian League.

Warwick scored his debut goal in the 24th minute, when he converted a cross from skipper Ian Dare. Wheatherley equalised for Fleet, but then Dave Harrison headed in from close range to give Marlow maximum points.

Chalfont St Peter's successful run continued at bottom-but-one Whyteleafe where Alan Rooney equalised with a volley after a fumble by goalkeeper John Mepham in the first half had given Whyteleafe the chance to go ahead.

A Dave Battimelli shot against the bar was the nearest Burnham went to finding the net when they went down 2-0 to unbeaten league leaders Leyton Wingate.

In the Cold Shield Hellenic League Flackwell Heath were left to rue missed chances when a well taken Jack Robinson goal was equalised by Kidlington in the second half for the match to end 1-1.
