

Only 17 tickets are left

“YOU’D better hurry if you want a ticket to ride by train to Altrincham on Saturday.” That was the message from Wycombe Wanderers Supporters Club chairman Ron Butterfield on Saturday.

Only 17 of the 400 tickets remain to be sold as cup fever hit the town. Many fans don’t want to miss the first leg of their F.A. Trophy semi-final away to the Alliance League giants.

Supporters Club hesitated before hiring the train for £2,000, especially as they thought Blues’ supporters might just be happy to see the second leg at Loakes Park on Saturday week.

But their decision was vindicated and the remaining tickets will be on sale at the match at home to Leytonstone & Ilford tonight (Tuesday).

The train which will have no refreshment facilities, leaves Wycombe Station at 9.35 am and gets to Altrincham at 1.53 p.m. After the match it leaves at 5.25 and gets back to Wycombe at 9.37 p.m.

Fans, too late for the train tickets, can of course travel by coach — bookings will be taken at Loakes Park tonight.

Those not going can read Michael Knox’s extensive coverage of the first leg in next week’s mid-week.