

I'm concerned, says Keen

MIKE Keen answered those prepared to criticise his decision to let both Peter Suddaby and Mick Kiely sign for Saturday's conquerors Hayes.

"The players we've got now will be better in the long term, even if they aren't already," said the Wycombe manager, who has been worried by his team's recent displays.

"I'm quite concerned. There are a lot of people struggling at present. Hayes, like Harrow before them were a physical team, but I've no intention of changing our style of play."

This result comes seven days before the Blues entertain Wealdstone in the first round of the F.A. Trophy, a competition in which Wycombe reached the semi-finals last season.

First detailed report of the Trophy tie will be featured in next week's Midweek.

Facing Fulham

FOR the second time within a month Chesham United will attempt to hold a friendly against Division Two pacesetters Fulham.

The match, on Thursday, kick off 7.30pm, was promised by Fulham after a hastily arranged friendly just before Christmas had been postponed because the pitch was frozen.

Manager Malcolm Macdonald and his assistant, Terry Mancini, are expected to bring a full strength first team squad to the Meadow, which Chesham chairman Peter Culley hopes will be enough to attract a large crowd to the ground.

Chesham had no match on Saturday.
