Boost for John

WARM hearted Wycombe officials and fans are making life more bearable for broken-leg victim John Richardson.

Richardson, who broke his leg and tore his tendons against Leicester, is still in severe pain in Wycombe General Hospital.

But he has been overcome by the number of people who have popped in to see him.

"Almost everyone from the chairman down has visited John," explained manager Paul Bence.

"The lad is overcome by this. He had even had visits from people he doesn't know."

Blues' fans held a collection at Saturday's match against Dulwich and they intend to buy something for Richardson.

Even Staines Football Club have had a collection for the popular player.

The former Hayes player watched Wycombe Reserves from a hospital window on Saturday and saw five goals in the first-half.

But it will be a long time before Richardson is back in action himself, possibly February or March of next year.
