

It's shake-up time . . .

WYCOMBE Wanderers boss Paul Bence has warned of a major shake-up before Saturday's home clash with Isthmian League Premier Division pace setters Sutton United.

"I cannot keep asking everyone to be patient," said a dejected Bence after his side had fallen 1-0 at Windsor on New Year's day. "There will be changes for Saturday's match — that I can promise."

Among those who could be dropped are front men Declan Link and Simon Read who have been suffering in front of goal recently.

"The forwards did not produce the goods on Tuesday," added the Blues' boss. "Simon Read had a great chance early in the game which would have put a completely different complexion on the result had he put it away.

Blues' defence could be in for a torrid time from a side that has lost only once in 22 matches while tucking away an incredible 68 goals.
