I WONDER how many of the 'occasional' visitors to Loakes Park are aware that, following their recent string of good results, Wycombe could well be in contention for a top three place in the Gola League when they face Weymouth on Saturday.

A tremendous achievement for a newly-promoted team.

I have no vested interest. I am simply a Wycombe follower of long standing and I am not alone in my disappointment that so many familiar faces have disappeared from the terraces.

It has not helped that, in recent seasons, Wycombe have reserved some of their least impressive performances for the big occasion.

But this season pretty well every match is a big occasion and I for one wish that a few more people would watch two or three consecutive games, preferably more, of course, before deciding to give Loakes Park a miss. — M. C. Ralph, Brimmers Hill, Widmer End.
