

Link signs off in his usual style

DECLAN Link left his adoring fans with the perfect something to remember him by on Saturday.

The blond striker notched his 11th Gola goal of the season to earn Blues a 1-1 draw with Northwich in his last game for the Loakes Park Club

On Monday he flew out to begin a new life in the United States.

Link bowed out in typical dramatic style.

The 21-year-old twice had a penalty saved. But a minute later he rammed Wycombe ahead.

Ryan denied Link a thrilling winner in the final minute.

Manager Paul Bence afterwards paid tribute to the forward who has a natural knack of bagging important goals.

"He came to us as a nobody from Staines but has left as one of the top strikers in Non-League football," said Bence.

"We cannot help but miss him."

THE FAREWELL GOAL . . .
Link hits the mark for the last time at Loakes Park.
