

FAN-TASTIC!

WYCOMBE Super fan David Bassett watched his 500th consecutive League match on Tuesday night when Blues drew 1-1 with Fisher at Loakes Park.

Incredibly David has not missed a Wycombe League encounter since 1976-77.

"The last time I missed a game was on September 13, 1975, when I was unable to get back from the Isle of Man," he recalled. "But I have interrupted holidays to watch the club."

Including cup competitions his total attendance at Blues matches since 1976/77 is over the 700 mark.