

Blues get that sinking feeling

Even the bus takes a dive

WYCOMBE Wanderers sank even further this week when they were bundled out of the GMAC cup at the hands of Bognor on Tuesday night.

The game, which was a dour affair, went to extra time after score at 90 minutes was 0-0.

Bognor scored the winner during the second period of extra time. A new face appeared in the Blues side during this game. He was Alan Myers, formerly of Feltham and Brentford.

Manager Peter Suddaby was expected to sign Edgar Awaratafe and Micky Joyce from Sutton Utd, but these deals fell through when both players said they didn't want to move to Loakes Park.

However, Suddaby still has several irons in the fire including a move for two players who previously played for Brighton and also one from Brentford.

Last Saturday's game at Stafford Rangers went badly wrong from start to finish.

The team arrived with only 25 minutes to spare before kick off after a series of traffic hold ups.

They lost 3-0 and then to add insult to injury the coach broke down on the way home resulting in a long wait at Toddington Service Station.

Tomorrow, the Blues play at Enfield kick off 3pm. It was only 3 weeks ago that the London side hammered Wycombe 5-1 in a game in which Enfield's Nicky Francis, celebrated after scoring all five goals.
