

Chilterns chit-chat

WITH HARRY WARSCHAUER

★ VERY little public attention seems to have been attracted by the vice-president of unfortunate Wycombe Wanderers, who won the OBE in the New Year Honours. He is, of course, cartoonist David Langdon, who for some years has been drawing the Christmas cards for the Blues. He used to live at Chalfont, but has now moved to Tring," said club secretary John Goldsworthy. "He still comes to most of our home games, though."

★ David saw the club hammered 5-1 by Maidstone on Saturday. John made a public announcement at the game, and David was congratulated in the boardroom afterwards.
