

JIM GETS A FLYER!

MARK WEST

Double delight for new boss

WONDERFUL Wycombe swept to two cracking victories under new boss Jim Kelman this week.

On Saturday Blues fired five past Cheltenham and then on Tuesday they beat Wealdstone 2-1 in the Capital League.

Afterwards, club secretary John Goldsworthy said: "It was a good week for the club. Everybody's delighted. Perhaps the players wanted to prove themselves."

Cheltenham had taken a one goal lead before Wycombe ran riot. Boyland got the equaliser against his old club after a cross from Mark West.

Boyland was again involved when Wycombe took the lead before the interval. Youngster Sean Norman floated in a free kick and Boyland rose in the box to head down.

Andy Graham flung out a boot to foil the keeper and West proved his sharpness by poking the ball over the line.

Wanderers stretched the lead after the interval when busy Kevin Durham, who threatened for so much of the game, was felled in the area after slipping past Brooks.

Norman capped his fine performance with a low drilled penalty strike to the right.

Wanderers showed a hint of their early season frailty when they allowed the visitors to pull one back.

But a super Keith Barrett free-kick, threaded inside the right hand post, restored the margin.

Carmichael forced keeper Churchward to fumble a high ball from another free-kick and West bagged his second when it fell to him.

Cheltenham squeezed another one back through sub Paul Mulvaney but by that time Wycombe fans were already celebrating.

On Tuesday night, Glasgow-born Kelman, 44, fielded a totally different 11 to give the rest of his squad a run-out.

Kelman, an FA coach who joins Wycombe from Maidenhead United, said: "We've got the basis of a good side here. I believe in playing simple football, and I love an attacking game."

"The supporters here are the best I've seen — they're magnificent, worth an extra goal each match."

His first managerial position was with Hungerford.
