BLUES' roller-coaster season continued this week. They battled to a gutsy 2-2 draw at Sutton then crashed out of the Berks and Bucks Senior Cup to lowly Windsor and Eton.

The cup defeat was a bitter blow for holders Wycombe who travelled to Stag Meadow in confident mood. Windsor were humiliated 11-1 at Loakes Park in the same competition last year. But they turned the tables on Blues on Tuesday night and were 2-0 ahead before Kevin Durham snatched a consolation goal.

Blues' hopes of a draw were buried when Windsor and Eton wrapped it up with minutes to go.

It was a different story on Saturday as Wanderers battled to a useful draw against a tough Sutton side.

Kirk Corbin needed six stitches in a nasty face wound and Mark West — whose two goals helped him towards the prestigious Mail On Sunday goal scorer of the month award — sustained a broken nose.

A disputed penalty and a last-minute untidy goal clinched Sutton the draw they did not deserve.

The game burst into life when Durham raced into the Sutton danger zone and was felled by full-back Robyn Jones.

sent 'keeper Roffey the wrong way.

But then the ref shocked Wycombe by awarding a penalty to Sutton after a goalmouth scramble.

New 'keeper John Granville blocked the penalty but Lenny Dennis put the rebound away.

Then with just 11 minutes to go Martin Woodall lifted a pinpoint pass over the defence and Nigel Taylor powered a shot goalwards. It hammered the woodwork but West pounced and collected his second.

But Wycombe were robbed four minutes into injury time when a ballooned ball fell in their area. Granville gathered but was knocked from his feet and, as he lost the ball, Jones slid it home.

Tomorrow Wycombe entertain Macclesfield in the Conference.
