

Blues players play on

THE merry-go-round of players at Wycombe Wanderers continued this week with the arrival of Scott Young and John Ray on a month's loan from Colchester Utd. Also expected to be signed by this weekend are Lawrence Osborne and Adrian Mann both from Newport County.

The Welsh side, like Wycombe, are struggling to avoid relegation and the Blues have had the opportunity to buy them at bargain prices. The two Colchester lads made their debut for the Blues in last Saturday's 1-1 draw with Northwich Victoria, however there is a doubt about John Ray for Saturday's match as he has suspected appendicitis. Osborne and Mann were both expected to play in Tuesday's Capital League match against Leyton

Orient however Osborne missed the match because he was suffering from flu. Mann certainly made his presence felt by bagging three of the Wanderer's goals in their 6-1 win.

Tomorrow the Blues play Welling at Loakes Park, kick off 3pm in an important relegation clash both sides will be desperate to win a game that will effectively mean six points to the winner.

On March 31 the Blues are a staging sportsman's dinner at the Crest Hotel, Maidenhead. The tickets for this evening cost £25 and are available from the Commercial Office at Loakes Park, tel High Wycombe 26567. Guest speaker will be Tommy Docherty former manager of Manchester Utd and Altrincham.
