

Blues boss steps down

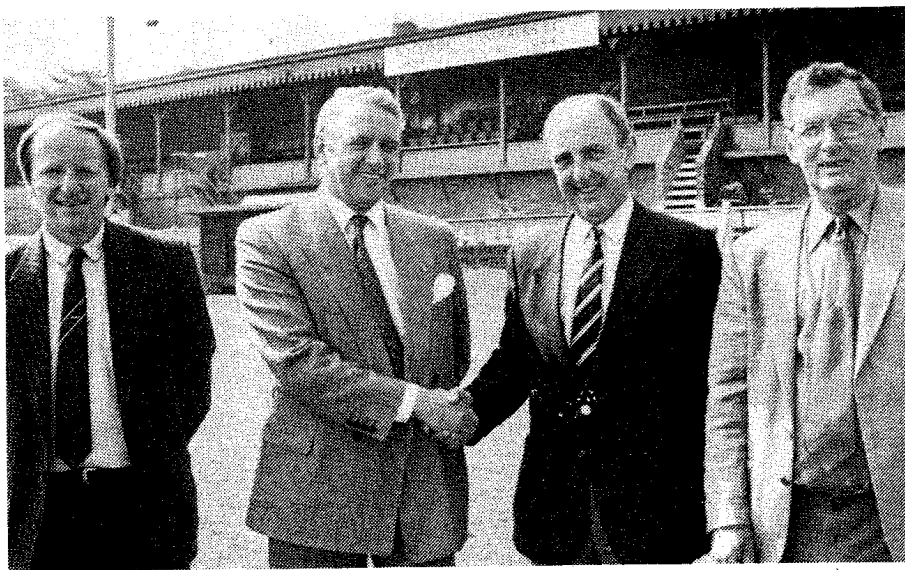

BRIAN Lee has stepped down as chairman of Wycombe Wanderers to concentrate on preparing for the club's move to a new ground at Sands.

New chairman is Ivor Beeks, 61, the former vice chairman, who was born in High Wycombe and runs a business in the town.

"This particular period is one of the most exciting in the history of the club," he said this week.

Mr Lee will remain on the board as a director with special responsibility for overseeing the details of planning the new ground.

The decision was taken at a board meeting last Wednesday, but officials delayed their announcement until a press conference at Loakes Park on Wednesday morning.

All smiles from Alan Parry, Ivor Beeks, Brian Lee and John Goldsworthy