

WYCOMBE Wanderers have moved into fourth position in the G.M.V.C. league their highest ever placing. The Blues with 14 games of the season remaining are now in a serious position to challenge for the championship, the prize of which is a place in Division 4 of the football League.

January has been a testing time for Wycombe but one they have come through with flying colours. They have played eight games and been undefeated in all of them, four were in the Conference League (including 3 difficult away games to Runcorn, Newport and Stafford) 2 in the F.A. Trophy against Bath City and a Berks and Bucks game versus Winslow.

John Kerr's goal in the match with Stafford on Tuesday ensured he won The Mail On Sunday's Goalscorer of the Month Award, one goal behind him was fellow Wanderer Mark West and Kettering's Robbie Cooke.

Last Saturday's match with Newport County was a high scoring affair the Blues finally running out 5-3 victors with goals from Mark West (2) Kevin Durham (2) and John Kerr. Tuesday's game and Stafford saw the Blues take one point in a 1-1 draw.

This Saturday the Wanderers have a rest from league football when they travel to Wealdstone in the F.A. Trophy 2nd Round present in the Middlesex side is former Blues' favourite Kirk Corbin. Manager Jim Kelman is hoping a large army of fans will be travelling the short distance down the M40 to cheer the team on. Jim has a few headaches with regard to injuries — club captain Keith Barratt is definitely ruled out with an inflamed achilles tendon and very doubtful for the game are both Sean Norman and John Granville. Kick-off is at 3pm.
