ALL CHANGE FOR THE BLUES

IT looks like all-change for Blues as the season draws to a close.

At least one leading player is moving on in addition to Kevin Durham, with another on the point of making a decision.

On the arrivals side boss Jim Kelman is known to be chasing a striker — but nobody is letting on who it is.

Report by CLAIRE PERRY

John Granville, the Blues' prized goalie, is currently talking to teams in America.

Kelman said: "He originally came from US soccer, and Los Angeles is a great place to be.

"I will be chatting to him soon to find out his thoughts for the future."

Keith Barrett is leaving

Loakes Park to move to a lower division.

"He has been a great part of the club but the Conference is physically very demanding.

"He has been with us for three years and it's time for him to move on."

John Kerr is returning to America to play for his father's side in Boston, but will be returning to Loakes Park at the beginning of August.

Wycombe hope their last away game of the season, against Northwich Victoria tomorrow, goes better than the final home match.

The clash with relegation-bound Weymouth ended up as a comedy of errors.

The 0-0 draw saw more physical contact than shots at goal in what turned out to be a typical end-of-season winding-down encounter.

With Weymouth going down fighting the game sometimes looked as though the teams' positions in the league should be reversed as the Blues lacked the gusto needed to turn the game their way.

The game was always physical and there were plenty of fouls awarded both ways.

Worked

The game ended in a lifeless 0-0 draw, but the crowd stayed to show their appreciation for Kelman's men who had come so close to a place in the fourth division.

Kelman said: "It was a really good send-off and gave us a chance to say thank you to all the supporters who have been right behind us all season."

Andy Robinson was voted Player Of The Season and Kelman said: "He has played excellently this season for us, hardly ever missing a match and he has really worked hard.
