

➡ Former England and Liverpool defender Alan Kennedy has joined Vauxhall Conference club Enfield, currently 21st in the table, for a short term period.

The 34-year-old, who made his debut in Saturday's 4-2 victory over Cheltenham Town, previously enjoyed a spell at Conference colleagues Northwich Victoria and was most recently player coach at Colne Dynamos.

➡ Darlington's unbeaten start to the Vauxhall Conference campaign came to an end on Saturday when the club lost 2-1 at home to third placed Barnet. The 13-match run is the best ever opening sequence to a Conference season.

During the run, Darlington won 10 matches and claim top defensive record in both the Conference and Football League. They set a new seasonal attendance record on Saturday when 3,886 watched the 2-1 defeat by Barnet. The gate raises the Quakers' average crowd to 3,248 - 40% higher than their 88-89 level.

Attendances at Fethams reflect a trend throughout the Vauxhall Conference with crowds currently showing a 13% increase. This season's 157 matches have attracted 234,081 spectators with the average gate reaching 1.491 - higher than any previous campaign.
