

Thoughts on new manager continue to dominate

WYCOMBE Wanderers have still to announce who is to be the new manager of the club following the resignation of Jim Kelman.

Speculation is rife around the club as to who will be his successor, names currently doing the rounds include former QPR player Jerry Mancini, Yeovil's manager Brian Hall, former Reading manager Ian Brandfoot and ex Chelsea manager John Hollins. A decision is expected to be announced shortly.

In the meantime assistant manager John Reardon will continue to take charge of the team and will be hoping to continue his unbeaten run of two wins and one draw in the Blues last three matches.

Last Saturday the Wanderers held Macclesfield who were top of the league to a 1-1 draw and indeed in front of a crowd of over 2000 could have beaten them easily but for a combination of poor finishing and the exploits of Alan Zelem in the Macclesfield goal. Simon Stapleton scored the Wanderers' goal after a fine move up the right wing involving four players.

Tomorrow the Blues travel to bottom of the table Fisher Athletic for a Conference game, kick off 3pm, and then on Wednesday Wycombe are involved in a Berks & Bucks match against Windsor & Eton at Loakes Park, kick off 7.30pm.
