

George Best to kick Wanderers out of town!

WYCOMBE Wanderers announced details of their very last match at Loakes Park this week.

The game to be played on Bank Holiday Monday May 7 will be against a Martin O'Neill International XI.

Included in the line-up will be former International George Best rated as one of the world's greatest players.

Other International players to have been approached to take part include John Robertson, Pat Rice, Tony Woodcock and Archie Gemmill, many of whom have played alongside Martin O'Neill during his career with Nottingham Forest and whilst representing Northern Ireland.

It will be a fitting finale to the Wanderers 95 year occupation of Loakes Park, kick off is at 3pm.

This Sunday also as part of the farewell to Loakes Park celebrations the club has organised a series of six-a-side matches starting at 2.30pm.

Each team will be made up of former Wanderers players who will have their last chance to play on the Blues' famous sloping pitch.

In the meantime, the present Wycombe team have a rare weekend off as they enter the final straight on the run up to the end of the season. Next week they play their final three games starting with Runcorn away on Monday, Stafford at home Thursday and then the final league match which is away to Altrincham on Saturday May 5.
