

Blues line up to play top clubs

PRE-SEASON matches against First Division sides are being planned this week by Wycombe Wanderers' officials.

The officials working from portable offices at Adams Park are hoping to attract some top clubs to the ground prior to the start of the next GM Vauxhall Conference season.

Secretary Alan Hutchinson told the Bucks Free Press: "Gone are the days of preparing for the season against Isthmian

League sides, as long as I'm secretary at this club.

"We still have to finalise dates, and will choose the first of the six clubs that get back to us.

"We can't take all six, but we will have some quality-league opposition at Adams Park before next season."

Wanderers will be hoping to make the 1990/91 season their best yet, and they hope the first few friendly games will put them on the road to achieving that.

Leaving Loakes Park has taken slightly longer than envisaged, with the floodlights, goalposts and crash barriers still upstanding during the week.

"We've left lock, stock and barrel," said Hutchinson, "except for the goalposts and crash barriers, which have been bought by Chalfont. There's no time pressure.

"The floodlights were due down last week, but they turned up with the wrong vehicles twice. They'll be down today."
