

● Barnet remain bookmaker William Hill's clear favourites, priced at evens from Kettering at 7-4. Wycombe are joint fourth at 25-1. The longest odds are for Gateshead and Bath, both quoted at 1,500-1 for the Conference title.

○ Sutton keeper Nicky Sullivan made the shortest appearance in the club's appearance when he was substituted after a collision against Colchester last Saturday — after 15 seconds!

● FIFA, the football world's governing body, has confirmed the Khan throw as legal. The Stafford Rangers winger Changez Khan can catapult the ball 60 yards with his somersault throw-in, and caused a bit of a debate when he first illustrated it in the match against Merthyr last month.

○ Kettering have set a Conference record for an unbeaten start to a season with their 14 match run, completed with a 1-0 win over Barrow. This surpasses Darlington's run of last year.

● Merthyr Tydfil have announced they will play Soviet Cup Finalists Torpedo Moscow in a friendly in late November. This follows their prestigious 1-1 draw with Red Star Belgrade in the summer.

○ Yeovil Town have appointed Clive Whitehead, the former Bristol City, West Bromwich Albion, Portsmouth and Exeter defender, as their new manager following last week's dismissal of Brian Hall. The 34-year-old becomes the Conference's fourth current player manager.
