

Unfair allocation disappoints regulars

A PROTEST letter in your paper would bring to the notice of Wycombe Wanderers FC their unfair way of issuing tickets for the Peterborough game.

First come, first served, which didn't take into consideration their bread and butter supporters who will be watching future games when your once-a-season ticket holders that grabbed tickets galore to probably re-sell at a profit will be forgotten.

There are hundreds of pensioners and elderly persons disappointed, so when the same situation arises again, please give some consideration to the regular supporters.

Time to call time on foul-mouthed fans

HAS Wycombe Wanderers' success gone to the supporters' foul mouths! The other day I went to watch Wycombe play against Boston for the FA Cup replay. I could not believe my ears, the abusive language that was used by some of the supporters towards the opposition, and above all the referee.

As I was sitting in the so-called family enclosure, I felt embarrassed to see so many youngsters learning such rude attitudes and make them think that to watch a football match, is to swear as much and as loud as you can.

In my view, the club and players have a great part to play by telling these people its OK to shout and sing songs, but respect the others. To the referees, you should never allow yourselves such abusive language.

Solution - Stop the game.

As a protest, I now watch Marlow Town.

Blues' ticket sell off was a disgrace

AFTER following the Wanderers for 55 years, through good and bad times, I am disgusted with the way the so-called professional administration staff sold the tickets for the Peterborough FA Cup match.

The Midweek, dated November 27, had a large advertisement stating places and times when tickets would be on sale from that Wednesday.

I went to the Wycombe v Boston match on Tuesday evening when it was announced they would be sold at 6 pm on Wednesday at the ground and any remaining ones in the town on Thursday. (Incidentally, the advertisement stated the tickets in the town would be on sale on Wednesday).

After the match on Tuesday, we were led to believe that if a stamped, addressed envelope and the appropriate money was left at the Commercial Office, the tickets would be posted to us. The staff accepted the money from myself, my wife, my brother and sister-in-law, and no mention was made to the effect that there would be any doubt about us getting tickets.

As we hadn't received the tickets, when we went to the match on Saturday we called at the office only to be told all the tickets were sold, and all postal applications, in which ours was included, just rested in the luck of the draw if any tickets are returned by Peterborough.

We were definitely not told on Tuesday night that if all the tickets were sold on Wednesday we would not receive any.

This could have been handled in a much better way by giving a voucher to all genuine supporters attending the Boston league match, which could have been exchanged for a ticket at the Kidderminster match, thus ensuring that 'regulars' had a fair chance of getting tickets.

If the Wanderers ever get league status (and I hope they do), I hope the officials who were responsible for building a ground with such a small capacity and in a cul de sac have been replaced.

If they are looking for a larger ground, I see the Bucks Free Press are advertising a prime site close to the town centre; the location - Loakes Park!
