

Fans face parking rules

COUNTY road chiefs are planning a parking crack-down on football fans at Wycombe Wanderers' Adams Park.

Permanent waiting restrictions in Hillbottom Road, Sands, and the surrounding area are being rushed through by Buckinghamshire County Council for the new season.

Assistant county engineer John Currell told a meeting of the county highways and public transport sub-committee on Thursday that Adams Park had been planned before the Hillsborough tragedy and the 1990 Guide to Safety at Sports Grounds.

With average crowds of up to 3,000 people at the ground the whole of Hillbottom Road and Lane End Road were blocked after a match. Emergency services would have difficulty in getting to the ground, said Mr Currell.

Training pitch visit

COUNCILLORS will visit the site of Wycombe Wanderers football team's proposed training pitch at Adams Park, High Wycombe, on Wednesday before deciding whether to grant planning permission.
