

Access won't do at all

WYCOMBE Wanderers, the League's newest club, ought to wander straight back where they came from!

Even assuming you can find Adams Park, there's almost no way you'll get out. Not in less than an hour!

Try this for a route to Wycombe's ground in a valley, more than three miles from the town centre:

Four mini-roundabouts, a double roundabout, three-quarters of a mile up a narrow lane, then through an industrial estate.

Secretary John Goldsworthy admits: "Yes, it can take an hour. There's only one way out with lots of traffic and buses."

Wycombe now join the new grounds at Scunthorpe and Chester as top of the soccer snarl-ups. Why on earth were they admitted from the Conference?

The League say: "Our inspectors look only at the facilities, which are very nice, and the financial position."

"Access doesn't come into consideration, but perhaps it should."

Thousands trapped in Lane End Road next season won't be saying "perhaps"!

KEITH DUBLIN has turned down the offer of a new contract. Players whose contracts were up at the end of the season have a month in which to reply to the offer.

"Keith has informed us that he is not happy with the terms we have offered him," said Steve Perryman this week.

Watford offered the ever-present, who finished the season as skipper, improved terms but Perryman intimated that he is unlikely to increase his offer to the central defender who has been at Vicarage Road for three seasons.

James Meara is another player who has a month to make his decision known, after being offered a one-year deal two weeks ago.

● Perryman is taking in the Norway-England game over the weekend and renewing his contacts in Scandinavia.

● Watford are awaiting confirmation from Wycombe Wanderers with regard to a proposed pre-season friendly.

They are also waiting final details on their pre-season tour to Devon and Cornwall.

They play at Alberton Villa on Saturday July 17, after reporting back for training on July 7. While the friendly details are all provisional it is hoped to play Truro on the Tuesday and Tiverton on the Thursday of that week, returning north and playing a fourth friendly en route on July 24. Bath, who

Trophy special wasn't so special

WHAT a shame past arguments with Wycombe Wanderers spoilt the coverage you gave us. It is so obvious that the wound has not healed yet.

There were around 30,000 people at Wembley to celebrate the Blues' success, not only in Division Three, but also in achieving the FA Trophy again. I am sure I was not alone in waiting anxiously for your paper to recapture the two days of celebration – but to no avail.

Why could you not give us more coverage in the so-called Trophy supplement in your Friday paper? The only pictures there were were duplicates of the Midweek edition, and we even had to share the 'supplement' with the motoring section.

Wake up BFP and give the town the support we deserve. We pay for the privilege of local news with your paper, so let's have it especially when we do well.

Also while writing, please run an advert for more proof readers. The misspelt words and bad context owe you no favours.

Joyce Gillet
Hughenden Avenue
High Wycombe

Westy will stay on

HIGH WYCOMBE: Wanderers striker Mark West has had his contract extended for a further season, but the club has not yet decided whether it is on a full-time or part-time basis.