

GLYN IS BACK FOR KNEES-UP

By CLAIRE NASH

GLYN Creaser will have a double celebration tonight when he marks his 34th birthday with his first Wycombe appearance since crippling his heel eight months ago.

Blues' former captain is playing in a Capital League game against Sutton United at Adams Park (ko 7.45pm), which marks a rapid return from injury where his foot was crushed after being run over by a fork-lift truck at work last January.

It was originally thought that he would not make a comeback until Christmas.

"I am looking forward to it after being out for so long. I am not so happy about it being my birthday, but I am glad to be making a comeback," he said.

Glyn Creaser: Recovered

The warehouse manager paid tribute to Wycombe physiotherapist Dave Jones, who guided his recovery and training build-up, and his team-mates.

"It's been difficult training on my own. But Dave Jones has been helping me every step of the way. And the lads have also been encouraging, which helped a lot," said Creaser.

He added that Wanderers' impressive start to the season has also been a spur.

"If the team's going well you want to be a part of it," he said, adding: "Getting back into the squad is a matter of making myself available to be picked. At least it gives the gaffer more options."

● BRENTFORD defender Terry Evans has joined Blues on a month's loan as part of Martin O'Neill's plans to bolster his squad, which has been depleted by injuries.

Steve Thompson, Simon Stapleton and Duncan Horton were again set to miss last night's Division Three clash at Hereford.

But Thompson may not be out of action as long as the four to six weeks which was originally feared.

● Report continued on page 43

QUIZWORD

This week's theme is FIND THE LADY

ACROSS

1. The sul
5. Renown
8. She wr
9. Bubbly

The midfielder strained his groin in last week's game against Leyton Orient.

Stapleton, who twisted his ankle in training last week, may be fit for this Saturday's game against Gillingham at Adams Park (ko 3pm).