

Wanderers will mix it with top opposition

WYCOMBE have been invited to play in the Evening Standard Five-A-Side tournament at Wembley Arena on Monday, May 9.

They are the only Division Three club in the knock-out competition which includes Arsenal, Chelsea, Queens Park Rangers, Tottenham, West Ham and Wimbledon from the Premiership.

Crystal Palace, Charlton, Watford, Millwall and Luton Town are involved from Division One. Brentford, Fulham, Leyton Orient and Barnet will represent Division Two.

Tickets, priced £20, £17.50, £15 and £12.50, are available from the commercial office. Doors open at 6pm with the first game kicking off at 7pm.

The draw will be announced at a later date.

Blues ladies need new trainer and players

WYCOMBE Wanderers' ladies are looking to improve their squad for next season.

They need a trainer/coach and new players aged 14 and above.

Wanderers have set a good standard this season. They walloped Reading ladies 9-1 in their last game at the weekend.

Sue Oakley scored four goals, Jo Rodman bagged a hat-trick, and Becky Lake and Camille Kamara scored one each.

Kamara was also awarded player of the match for outstanding defensive play.

Sports quiz set to become annual event

HIGH WYCOMBE: The success of Wycombe Wanderers' Question of Sport quiz has prompted its sponsors, Endsleigh Insurance, to announce it will now become an annual event.

The Third Division football club staged the quiz, for secondary school pupils, at Adams Park earlier this month. John Hampden Grammar School triumphed over The Cressex School in the final.

Blues news

CENTRE forward Tony Cunningham signed for Wycombe Wanderers last night. Tony joins from Doncaster for £2,000, striker Nicky Cusack joins Wycombe on loan from Oxford, and goalkeeper Steve Book, from Brighton, joins Slough on loan but will play for Wycombe if needed.

Promotion could be on the cards

WYCOMBE get back to Division Three action this Saturday, with an excellent chance of snatching one of the top three automatic promotion places. Wanderers are in third place going into the home game with seventh placed Chesterfield, but have games in hand on nearly all their opponents. The wins at Colchester and Doncaster could prove to be the most important six points of the season, because Wycombe now have more home games left to play than any of their rivals and are in the middle of a winning run. This Tuesday, Wycombe are at home again, against strugglers Darlington.
