

A parachutist delivers the ball to Adams Park

PARACHUTISTS dived into Wycombe Wanderers' Adams Park to deliver the match ball – half way into the game.

Because of cramped airspace four parachutists from RAF Hawks Freefall Display Team had to wait until half time to bring the official match ball down to earth. Another ball was used during the first half of the game against Stockport County last Saturday.

The sky's the limit for Blues ball

A spokesman for the club said the new ball proved lucky for Wycombe, who were one goal down at half time. The game finished a 1-1 draw.
