

---

Smith continues team reshuffle

WYCOMBE Wanderers boss Alan Smith will continue to mix his squad around to test players whose contracts are due to run out at the end of the season.

Smith introduced major changes for last Saturday's 2-1 defeat at York City and played a similar line-up for Tuesday's 1-1 draw with Rotherham United which ended a run of three consecutive defeats. The Blues manager is set to do likewise for tomorrow's match against lowly Swansea City at Adams Park.

Smith said he has not decided who he wants to keep on next season out of the 12 players whose contracts will expire. "I want to look at everyone. I will make my decision once the season is over. Obviously I will tell the players themselves first."

In regard to defender Terry Howard, who has not played since being dropped at half time at Hull two weeks ago, Smith commented: "I don't really need to see what Howard can do. He's played for most of the season."

Players out of contract by June 1996: Steve Brown, Dave Carroll, Matt Crossley, Simon Garner, Paul Hardyman, Terry Howard, Matt Lawrence, Keith Ryan, Jason Solomon, Simon Stapleton, Shaun Stevens and Terry Skiverton.

Players whose contracts run to 1997: Mickey Bell, Anthony Clark, Jason Cousins, Miquel Desouza, Terry Evans, David Farrell, Steve McGavin, Brian McGorry, Gary Patterson, Jason Rowbotham and John Williams.

■ Blues reserves suffered a 2-0 Capital League defeat against Brentford on Wednesday.

■ This week is your last chance to vote for your Blues player of the year. All you need to do is fill in the coupon below and sent it in by Monday.