

Forgotten man makes his comeback

BRIAN McGorry came through his first game for six months in the reserves 6-1 win over Woking on Wednesday and has set his sights on a first team recall in time for next Saturday's FA Cup clash at Barnet.

McGorry, whose hamstringing injury has been complicated by a trapped nerve, played the full 90 minutes and scored.

He said: "It was great to be back. I'm still not 100 per cent but I'm getting there."

McGorry picked up his injury while on loan at Cardiff and it ended his hopes of a permanent transfer to South Wales.

McGorry said: "I was disappointed at the time because Alan Smith didn't seem to like me and I enjoyed it under Phil Neal at Cardiff. But he's at Manchester City now and we've got a new boss here, so I'm happy here now and I want to force myself into the team. I've got something to prove to the supporters."

■Midfielder Paul Buckle, who was signed on a non-contract basis by Neil Smillie when he was caretaker boss, has left the club.

He is now training with arch rivals Colchester, after getting just one non-playing substitute appearance at Adams Park.

Buckle said: "I was very disappointed that I didn't get a better chance. Neil brought me in and it might have been different if he had stayed on as manager. This thing with Colchester came up so I went to see John Gregory last week and he said he couldn't offer me a contract so my mind was made up."

■Striker Neil Davis has had his loan at Adams Park extended by one month.

■Triallist Ray McStay, brother of former Scottish international Paul, has returned to Scotland. Gregory said: "We weren't able to offer him anything."

Gift for Jonah's treatment room

AS the Official Wycombe Wanderers Supporters Association made a cash surplus last year we would like to inform all supporters that this coming Tuesday before the game against Millwall we will be presenting the football club physio Dave Jones with a piece of equipment which is designed to help in the rehabilitation of players after injury.

The Fitter Ski Trainer has been shipped over from Canada and is already in use at the club. As we are all aware the first player who will benefit from this will be Keith Ryan who underwent surgery for a knee injury, it will also benefit ankle, shoulder and arm injuries.

Without your support we could not have done this, our main aim is to benefit the club and players where possible, so please come along and join in all the functions we provide.

The club's forum with John Gregory which took place last Thursday was a great success. The man is a new ray of sunshine who has set his sights on improving the club in all aspects.

Rena will be taking coach bookings in the Vere Suite Foyer before and after the game against Millwall on Tuesday for Swansea, Barnet and the FA Youth Cup second round, which is to be played at Wolverhampton.
