Don't forget the Independents

WE have just seen this week's Bucks Free Press (April 24) bemoaning the demise of The Adams Family fanzine.

Quite frankly we are incensed that you have been blind to the existence of our own publication for WWISC members, The Wanderer. This newsletter is on sale bi-monthly to all WWFC supporters and has been in publication for more than three years now. Next season the TAF writers have said they will produce some articles for us.

We have a new editor, a new look fanzine with a circulation of 500, and lots of regular contributors producing witty and amusing articles on a range of football issues, not just WWFC. Is this the "other" fanzine you mention?

As we (or rather, Sharon Deighton) writes for WWISC in the paper fairly regularly, and you publicise our coach travel and quiz nights, it is not that you are not aware of our existence. What are we supposed to put this down to? Do you think our fanzine is a load of rubbish? Perhaps we had better send you a copy!

Yours in frustration
