

Final run-in feels me with real dread

AN INDEPENDENT VIEW

By Sharon Deighton
Chairman, WWISC

THERE was a glimmer of light flickering at the end of the tunnel following Wanderers' Easter programme.

But sadly with the final run-in the Blues have to the end of the season, a great deal will be needed to keep that going.

Mind you, there's no doubt some people have confidence the Blues can do it.

It's certainly the talk of the town. Just this week I overheard a conversation in a shop, where one supporter was insisting: "Of course the Wanderers have an easy run-in."

I don't think it could be much worse. We have no easy games left and any points we do get have got to be a bonus.

We will have to continue to look at how other teams are doing but they, like us, are fighting to keep their Division Two status and, like us, they won't want to give any points away either.

There are those that argue that going down won't do us any harm. I'm afraid I just can't agree with that, I would rather we stay up.

In truth, I think the arrival of Blues boss Lawrie Sanchez came about six games too late.

Let's hope that my worse fears aren't realised. Let's hope I'm proved wrong.

When you think the worse, you can only be pleasantly surprised, can't you?

● When I wrote my last article for the BFP, I spoke about the rumours going around the football club regarding the changes to the home terrace.

These rumours, which were started from within the club itself, were quickly denied by chairman Ivor Beeks.

A statement duly appeared in the BFP stating that no changes would be made.

I was therefore both angry and upset when I read the matchday programme on March 27 when snide remarks were made against me.

The club have chosen to put the blame on my shoulders, because of their own poor communication. They have to take responsibility for failing to inform the fans about what is happening.

● The Independent Supporters Club will be running coaches to both of Wycombe's away games at Stoke and Manchester City on April 14 and 24.

To book call (01494) 450622.

HOW THEY STAND

Team	P	W	D	L	F	A	W	D	L	F	A	P	S
Fulham	38	14	2	1	37	10	11	4	4	27	16	87
Walsall	38	11	6	3	31	20	11	2	5	24	20	74
Preston	39	11	5	4	43	20	10	5	4	26	17	75
Bournemouth	39	14	5	1	37	9	6	5	8	22	24	70
Man City	40	10	6	3	27	12	8	9	4	27	17	69
Gillingham	39	13	5	2	39	14	5	9	5	24	21	68
Wigan	37	11	3	4	32	12	7	4	8	25	24	61
Stoke	38	9	3	7	26	22	10	1	8	23	23	61
Millwall	39	8	7	5	29	21	8	3	8	17	24	58
Chest field	38	13	3	4	33	16	3	7	8	11	20	58
Reading	40	9	6	6	27	25	6	6	7	22	27	57
Luton	39	9	4	7	23	23	4	6	9	23	30	49
Wrexham	38	7	6	6	18	21	5	5	9	20	31	47
Blackpool	39	5	8	6	19	19	6	5	9	16	26	46
Notts Co	38	6	4	7	23	22	6	5	10	21	31	45
Bristol R	39	7	8	6	30	26	2	7	9	19	21	42
Burnley	39	7	6	8	22	33	3	6	9	22	36	42
Colchester	39	6	7	6	19	25	3	8	9	23	33	42
York City	39	4	7	8	23	29	6	2	12	24	40	39
Oldham	39	5	3	10	19	25	5	5	11	19	31	38
Wycombe	39	7	4	10	27	23	2	6	10	14	28	37
North pton	39	3	8	7	15	21	5	5	11	16	26	37
Lincoln	38	8	3	8	24	23	2	3	14	10	39	36
Macc'field	38	5	4	9	14	20	3	5	12	15	29	33

New Blues kit unveiled

The new home shirt

... and what they'll wear away

THIS is what the Blues will be wearing for the next two seasons, the BFP can exclusively reveal.

Wanderers have signed a four-year kit deal with Avec, which sees the traditional quarters retained on the home kit but scrapped on the away version.

The home kit will feature the sky and navy blue quartered shirt and a return to matching sky blue shorts and socks.

The kit goes on sale on June 1.

Blues' target
Games to go: 7
Points needed: 10