

HOUDINI BOSS?

Unbridled celebrations: Wanderers can't hide their joy at scoring against Wrexham on Saturday on their way to a vital 2-0 win

WANDERERS chairman Ivor Beeks described Lawrie Sanchez as Houdini as Wycombe moved out of Division Two's bottom four for the first time this season with a 2-0 win at Wrexham.

It was Wanderers' third successive away win and it has given the Blues real hope of beating the drop with

Beeks said of Sanchez: "I think he's Houdini, he's a different class. It took us a long time to appoint a manager but he's been worth the wait. He's doing a tremendous job. He's Mr Cool, his expression never changes but he gets results."

It is the first time in five years that Wanderers have won three successive away matches and with four wins out of the last five games they are the division's form side.

Sanchez said: "We're out of the bottom four for the first time. If we mimic the results of the teams below us from now until the end of the season we will be safe."

But Wanderers' day of joy was tarnished by the results of some of the other teams in the relegation dogfight who are also scrapping for their lives.

Macclesfield beat third-placed Preston, Northampton beat Luton and York got a 90th minute goal to defeat Millwall.

Sanchez said: "Other results didn't go for us but as long as we're getting the right results that's all that matters to me. We can get out of trouble. We're on a good run, the confidence is high and we've just got to keep it going."

"It's going to go to the last game of the season but we can do it."
