

Rallying cry of Big Chief

BLUES boss Lawrie Sanchez is calling on the town to turn out and help push his team past the winning post when they entertain West Brom in the Worthington Cup at Adams Park on Tuesday.

Wanderers' magnificent 1-1 draw in the first leg of the second round clash at the Hawthorns last Tuesday has put them on the verge of reaching the third round for the first time in their history.

Sanchez said: "I want a big crowd. The team's improved tremendously and so have the fans but if we don't get a minimum of 6,000 I'll be very disappointed."

Sanchez and his side, who knocked out Wolves in round one, deserve it. Three of his team, Matt

Lawrence, Sean Devine and Jermaine McSporran were named in the Carling Opta second division team of the week for their performances in Saturday's league win over Cardiff and Blues' cup heroics at West Brom brought national praise from former Eastenders star Tom Watt now working as Talk Radio's soccer pundit.

He said: "What Sanchez has done at Wycombe is amazing. I thought they were goners when he came in last season but he saved them and now they're doing well in the league and causing cup upsets. It's no wonder Premiership chairmen come to Wycombe looking for their managers.

"People talk about the signing of Jaap Stam but for a real bit of good business there's nothing better than Sanchez selling Keith Scott for £250,000 and getting Sean Devine," he added.
