

It's not all sunshine for us you know

PARK LIFE

By Steve Brown

WELL the extended summer weather continues to be with us, and while there's no complaints from the sun worshippers, it's not the perfect weather for the wonderful game.

How long we'll be having this Caribbean summer is not known, but surely all you die-hard fans prefer the drizzly wet Saturday afternoons where the soaring hot temperature does not play a part.

Every Saturday morning, before matches there's no better way to start the day by watching Soccer Am on Sky television.

Most of the lads at the club watch it and it would be nice to see our fans on Fans of the Week. It seems that all other teams' fans get the call-up but I'm still waiting to turn on my tv and see the Wycombe fans in the gallery. Only last week there was an ex-Wycombe player, Danny Wallace, on Can He Kick It?

When asked about what clubs he played for, I notice he never mentioned Wycombe, even though he was on a short-term contract here.

It was also nice to see another ex-Wycombe player, Cyrille Regis who spent a season-and-a-half with us, at West Brom on Tuesday night.

Being into computers, I have always kept an eye on the club web pages and other web sites connected to WWFC, and a certain room called The Gas Room.

I have read a lot of the messages posted on that web site, and think some of the points raised in there are valid topics of conversation. But it does sadden me that some people choose to abuse our own players.

It's not that we - or should I say me - cannot take criticism, but the fact is we have a new manager who is working very hard with the players to bring success back to the football club.

This is not going to happen overnight, and the club is in a totally better position than last year, when we were still looking for our first win.

We all get frustrated but giving the younger members (and me!) abuse on the web pages is not constructive or funny.

I'm sorry if I sound miserable this week, it's just that I have a pregnant girlfriend, and I'm the one with all the symptoms - craving and emotional.

Who said men don't know what it's like to be pregnant?
