

● THAMES Valley Police's 'Do A Des' drink-free driver campaign gets a boost from Wycombe Wanderers' chairman Ivor Beeks and players at the Adams Park ground

Blues boost 'no drink' driver bid

WYCOMBE Wanderers and Thames Valley Police have teamed up to warn fans about the dangers of drink driving.

The joint initiative was launched before Saturday's home game against Millwall at Adams Park, to encourage fans to designate a driver to stay sober - under the slogan Do A Des.

Supt Norman Bartlett, head of Thames Valley Traffic Police, said: "Drinking and driving can result in tragic consequences.

"Having one for the road can ruin lives, but if people take turns to be the designated driver for the night, they are sure to have a safe journey home."

The scheme has targeted fans as many supporters are young men between 16 and 24, the category most likely to be involved in a drink drive accident.

Wanderers chairman Ivor Beeks said: "We are happy to support this important campaign. I hope Blues fans will Do A Des and take turns to stay sober and drive home - it is only for one night and could save lives."