

Freebie for loyal Wanderers fans

BLUES are offering loyal fans free travel to the last match of the season at Cambridge following the success of last season's freebie to Lincoln.

Fans will be able to claim free coach travel to The Abbey on May 6 if they can produce ticket stubs from the Good Friday game at home to Notts County, the Easter Monday derby at Reading and the game at home to Luton on April 29.

Blues boss Lawrie Sanchez instigated it to reward the club's loyal followers.

● Reserve boss Terry Gibson has attacked the system which allowed Blues to sell 14-year-old Michael Malcolm to Spurs in a deal which could eventually net Wycombe £500,000 if he plays for England and makes a set number of appearances for the Premiership club.

Gibbo said: "I find it a bit disturbing and wonder where it's going to stop but we are playing by the same rules as any other clubs and something will have to be done."

"I've got an 11-year-old who wants to be a footballer and no one will be buying and selling him at 14. He'll go where's best for him."

Boss Sanchez is also concerned by the spiralling fees for kids.

He said: "It puts pressure on kids. Clubs are taking a gamble and if one or two youngsters make it it pays off."

But he warned: "Danny Senda is playing in our first team now. He wouldn't be doing that at Spurs. If you're good enough you will get there eventually."

● Blues will be at Wembley in May for the first time this century. They have been invited to attend the last FA Trophy final and join a parade of previous winners.

● Monday's postponed reserve match against Brighton at Bognor has been rearranged for Thursday, April 13. The reserve match at Millwall has also been rescheduled to Wednesday, May 3.

● Sanchez has had an informal bid for Bournemouth targetman Steve Fletcher rejected and admitted he does not expect to solve his problem on the cheap as he hunts a striker to play alongside 23-goal £200,000 record buy Sean Devine.

He said: "It's going to cost money. Sean didn't come cheap. You don't get goalscorers for nothing."

It could be him: Sean Devine is one of the favourites for this year's player of the year title
