

New stand set to open next week

WORK on the £385,000 extension to the away stand is set to be completed this weekend but Wanderers will be made to sweat before they can open it.

The contractors are planning an official hand-over ceremony on Monday, but safety inspectors aren't due to visit until next Friday – the day before Blues plan to use it for the first time for the visit of Wrexham.

Contingency plans have already been drawn up to house the Welsh club's fans in the corner of the main stand if the inspectors don't grant it the safety certificate.

But Wanderers, who paid £100,000 on the project, with the rest coming in grants, aren't expecting any problems with the 2,000 seater stand.
