

Good game, good game for Forsyth

MICHAEL Forsyth got off to a winning start as Wanderers reserve team boss as the second string came from behind to win 3-1 at Swindon on Wednesday.

Forsyth's new generation recovered from going a goal behind to win with a 30-yarder from Keith Ryan, Paul Emblen's penalty and a third from Leeyon Phelan.

Wycombe included trialist Lee Canoville in the centre of defence and Sanchez now looks set to offer the 6ft lin former Arsenal youngster an extended trial.

He said: "He did ok. He's got a bit more to prove. He's not as dominant in the air as I would have liked but I'll have a chat with him and see if he wants to stay a bit longer."

Ealing-born Canoville, 20, graduated from the FA's School of Excellence at Lilleshall and gained England schoolboy recognition. He was a member of the Gunners 1998 FA Premier Youth championship winning team and made his one and only first team appearance in a Worthington Cup tie against Ipswich last season.

He also spent a spell on loan at Northampton.

● Fans are advised to retain their ticket stubs from Tuesday's Worthington Cup clash against Bristol Rovers in case the club enjoys another cup run.

Wycombe are in the process of finalising a ticketing priority scheme for all cup matches at Adams Park this season and details will be announced shortly. But they have confirmed that tickets from Tuesday's game will form a part of the scheme.

The one-legged match kicks off at 7.45pm at Adams Park.

● Wanderers are hoping to mop up some disillusioned Slough Town supporters this season following the demise of The Rebels.

Blues press officer Alan Hutchinson will hold talks with Slough radio station Star FM today in a bid to get Wanderers coverage in the Berkshire town.

● Paul Emblen, Ian Simpemba and Roger Johnson all benefited from the FA's new ruling on bookings in reserve matches when they were all carded at Swindon.

Previously bookings collected in reserve action counted towards bans in all competitions but now, unless they are for serious foul play, they only count towards other reserve games.

Boss has striker bid turned down

WANDERERS have had a six-figure bid for a mystery striker turned down this week.

Boss Lawrie Sanchez has been working his way down a hit-list of the top 40 strikers in the bottom two divisions but he has not been able to bring anyone in.

Sanchez said: "You would have to be naive not to realise we need another striker. My phone has been burning hot with all the calls I've made.

"We are looking at players that are established forwards not free transfers but clubs don't want to sell their best players. We will get someone in sooner or later but they have got to improve our side."

The boss is now considering going back to Mansfield Town with an improved offer for Chris Greenacre after his initial £200,000 bid was turned down by the club.

Want to report on the Blues?

DO you fancy yourself as a Wycombe Wanderers match day reporter?

The Bucks Free Press website is looking for a Blues fan to write match reports for its popular website during the forthcoming season.

No previous writing experience is necessary but the reporter will need access to the internet.

The reporter will be expected to provide a 300-word report after home games which can be uploaded from home via the internet.

It will appear in the News on the Blues section of the newspaper website at www.bucksfreepress.co.uk
