

Holly sends Sanchez a timely reminder

GAVIN Holligan hammered out a 'pick me' message to manager Lawrie Sanchez as he made a scoring return for the reserves on Wednesday.

The former West Ham striker took just seven minutes to make his point as he headed in Martyn Lee's corner as Wanderers won 2-0 at Bristol Rovers.

Holligan has missed the last four matches through injury and suspension but is available for selection again now and champing at the bit.

He showed he has lost none of his sharpness as he made a scoring return to keep manager Michael Forsyth's impressive run with the reserves going but it looks as though he and Paul Emblen, who grabbed Blues other goal in the west country will have to wait until Wednesday's LDV Trophy game at home to Brentford before making their first team return.

Manager Lawrie Sanchez is contemplating wholesale changes for that game and plans to give the likes of Emblen, Lee and Dave Carroll a run out. Jason Cousins will also return to face his former club with Paul McCarthy sitting out a one-match ban following his controversial sending off at Bury.

● Wanderers fans will have to choose between club and country again on Saturday November 10.

The Wycombe board have decided not to move their home match against Peterborough United on November 10 even though it clashes with the national side's friendly against Sweden at Old Trafford on the same afternoon.

Last weekend Wanderers' match at Notts County was the only Second Division match of the day with all the others being moved to avoid a clash with the England versus Greece game.

● Wanderers youth team have been drawn away to Canvey Island in the first round of the FA Youth Cup. The match will take place on Wednesday, October 24.

● Andy Baird remains on target for a Christmas comeback following his cruciate injury sustained against Wimbledon last February.
