

Nice one my Johnson

JASON Cousins tipped teenage centre half Roger Johnson for a big future after seeing the 18 year-old shine as Wanderers lost their unbeaten home record to Cardiff.

He said: "He was outstanding. You wouldn't have known it was his debut. You would have thought he'd played 60 or 70 games and that's probably the biggest compliment you can give him.

"He was confident, he was talking, he was strong and did everything that was asked of him. He's a courageous lad and he's got a lot of composure as well.

"If he keeps his feet on the ground and keeps learning, he could have a good future ahead of him."

Rogers was off the field, receiving treatment after a horrible tackle from Graham Kavanagh when Kavanagh scored the only goal of the day - on a day when the only other unbeaten home record in the country also fell as Wigan won 1-0 away at Brentford.

Johnson said: "It's been difficult waiting in the wings. But I've got my chance now and hopefully I can take my opportunity and win a contract for next season.

"I'm up at the end of the season so I'm really hoping I can get in for a few games, do well and show the manager that I'm worth a new one."
