

Shortlist has six appeal

WANDERERS have drawn up a shortlist of six businesses to replace Verco as the club's main sponsor at the end of the season.

Any other firms wanting to gatecrash their way into that six have until Tuesday when the club have set a deadline for any companies to express their interest.

● The reserves are still looking for their first win of the New Year after crashing 1-0 at home to bottom club Bournemouth in the Avon Combination on Wednesday.

Chukkie Eribenne's first half penalty, after a foul by Stuart Hole, settled the game.

● Wanderers are reeling after being hit by three family bereavements. Goalkeeper Martin Taylor and Mark Rogers both lost their mother-in-laws while coach Terry Gibson's father passed away.

Boss Lawrie Sanchez said: "I take my hat off to the three of them. They have been brilliant. I wouldn't use it as an excuse for our results but it has been a difficult time down here.

● Blues fans will be able to get two programmes for the re-arranged Huddersfield Town match at Adams Park on Tuesday. The original programme for the postponed New Year's Day game will be given away free to anyone buying the new version.

● The Chairboys' match at Brentford a week tomorrow is an all-ticket cheapie bonanza for away fans. Juniors can sit or stand for £2, senior citizens can stand for just £4 while adult admission is £9 terrace or £15 seats.
