

It is time to look forward

THE FA Cup has gone for another year and we can't change what has happened.

As you all know we lost 4-2 to Brentford in a really great cup tie that had everything except the result we all wanted.

All the boys were really disappointed afterwards, especially after the way we came back into the game.

I must say when we pulled it back to 2-2 after going 2-0 down inside the first eight minutes, I really thought we were going to pull it off.

We were on top at that stage and I think if Craig Faulconbridge's header had gone in instead of over the top we would have won it.

I just don't think they would have been able to recover from conceding three goals in a row.

Earlier in the season that would have gone in for Craig when he was scoring goals.

As it was, it wasn't to be and unfortunately we contributed to our own downfall with some very poor defending.

We are terribly disappointed with the goals we conceded. Conceding four goals at home hurts and it's hard to put your finger on what's gone wrong but there is no getting away from it, teams have scored too many goals against us this season.

The goals we conceded were poor and we're the first to admit it.

It's hard to put your finger on it because we looked so comfortable in that 0-0 draw at Huddersfield a couple of games ago.

But while we are very disappointed you have to give a lot of credit to Brentford. I thought they looked a very good side and it was always going to be a tough game.

Everyone is disappointed about it and the best way to start getting over that disappointment would be to go out and beat Tranmere tomorrow and get our fans singing and dancing again.

Talking of dancing, yours truly has been given the job of getting the dancefloor jumping at Time Nightclub in High Wycombe.

Myself and Lewis Cook will be manning the decks for a special charity night on December 22 and I hope you will all be joining me there.

I've done a few parties in the past but this will be my biggest gig. I'm really looking forward to it. It's a break from the norm and I will relish the challenge.

It should be a bit of fun and it's about raising money for charity as well. We'll be playing a bit of everything R&B, soul, US house and dance so it should be a good night.
