

Blues to unveil new kit sponsor

WYCOMBE Wanderers have sealed a deal with a kit sponsor – but are refusing to say who it is.

The club has signed an agreement with a company for at least two years but want to unveil the new sponsors at a news conference on June 25.

A Wanderers spokesman said that the new sponsors, who have worked with the club for a number of years, wanted to have manager Lawrie Sanchez, chairman Ivor Beeks and the Wycombe directors at the conference – and Wednesday week was the earliest date that could be fitted in.

The new kit, with the sponsors name will also be launched on that day, with Blues calling the sponsorship, 'a very good deal.'

The two-year-deal is for a minimum two years, with no get-out clause unlike last-year's deal with sponsors Integrity Software, who used the clause to get out of sponsoring the Chairboys when they changed ownership.

Wanderers are also hoping that their stadium-sponsorship deal will have been signed by June 25.

Negotiations are currently at the contract stage, with Blues confident that their Adams Park stadium will have to be re-named.

Wanderers have also tied up a sponsorship deal with Aylesbury company Lucas World of Furniture, who will be sponsoring Wycombe's match programme next season.

Paraguay test for U19s

FOOTBALL: Wanderers' U19 team have secured a mouth-watering friendly against Paraguay's U19 national side.

The match against the South Americans will take place at Bisham Abbey on July 31 at 2pm. Fans are welcome to come along and watch the game.

The match comes a year after the U19 squad played a game against England, with players like Chelsea's Carlton Cole and Arsenal's Jermaine Pennant featuring.

And Blues youngsters also missed out on the opportunity of playing against Argentinian side Boca Juniors last year when they couldn't find room for the fixture.
