

Wanderers youngsters outgunned by Paraguay U19

WANDERERS' established stars will be looking over their shoulders after the U19s put on an impressive display against Paraguay U19s.

The South American side ran out worthy 2-0 winners but didn't have it all their own way in the match at Bisham Abbey.

In the first-half the gulf in class and technical ability was clear as the Paraguayans continually opened Blues up.

That pressure resulted in a goal after 25 minutes when striker Derlis Florentin received the ball in the box and finished coolly.

Florentin then had a penalty well saved by keeper Tom Gott.

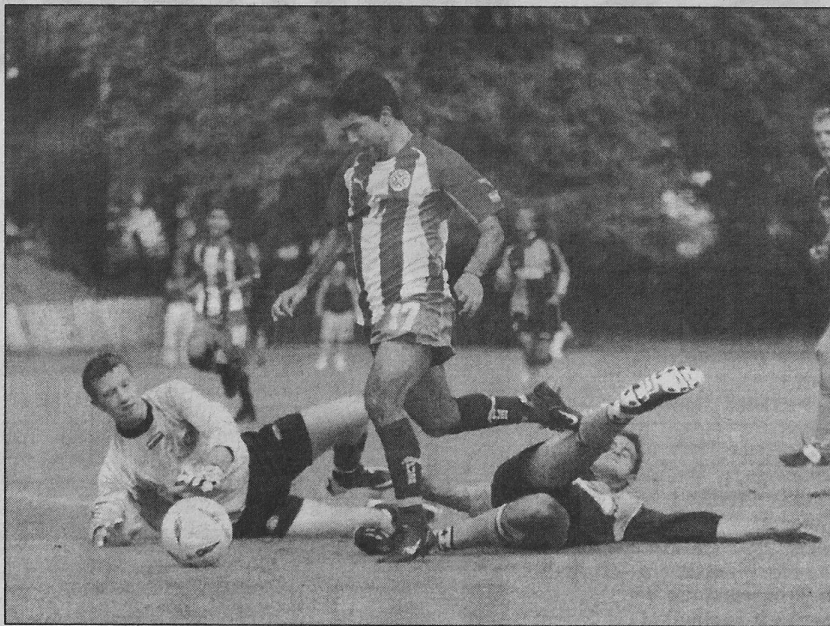

In the second-half Wanderers looked more dangerous and left winger Matt Warner looked particularly threatening, crashing a free-kick against the post.

But against the run of play, Paraguay got a second goal. A free-kick from 35 yards was swung in by Christian Anderson and despite a flurry of activity in the box, nobody managed to get a touch, catching Gott unawares.

It marred a fine display for the young stopper but caretaker coach Dave Evans was still quick to praise him.

He said: "All the boys played well and the keeper did very well to save the penalty. We only conceded two goals and it gives us confidence starting the season."

Floored: Blues keeper Tom Gott goes to ground against Paraguay

Ref: 03-1958 P10