

We've got to sort it out now

NONE of the lads need telling that the performance against Colchester the other night wasn't acceptable.

I watched the game from the press box and it was very frustrating. I've been at Wycombe a long time and I know all about the rivalry between the two teams. I want us to beat Colchester as much as the fans do. I know how important it is to you.

There's no getting away from it. We're in a bad situation and we need to get out of it now. We need to get some points on the board starting with Saturday's game at home to Oldham.

We have got to get the three points come hook or by crook. We have got ourselves into this mess and we have got to get ourselves out.

We are going to have to be mentally tough. We are a young side and it is a chance to see who the tough ones are.

I believe we are good enough but we have got to get back to basics. What we were doing well at the start of the season and in pre-season we are now doing awfully.

We have got to stand up and be counted and show some heart.

I would like to be more involved than I am at the moment and there has been talk of three or four clubs who want to know about my availability. But I'm not looking to move away from Wycombe. I want to dig in and help us get out of this mess we find ourselves in.

Although I wasn't in the squad against Colchester I did play in the reserves against Oxford United and my old Wycombe team-mate Paul McCarthy.

Triallist Andy Bell put in another good performance up front. I think Belly would be a good addition to the squad. He's a good linking player. He brings other people into the game and coming from Blackburn Rovers he's been brought up with the right habits.
