

Blues boss opens new contract talks with Johnson

Roger Johnson

CHAIRBOYS chief John Gorman is set to offer defender Roger Johnson a new deal.

The centre back had looked to be on his way out of the club under old boss Tony Adams, who didn't rate him, but Gorman has other ideas.

The former England assistant manager said: "I want him here. He's still got things to learn, but he has really impressed me.

"He is the type of character I need."
