WANDERERS boss John Gorman has told his players the only thing that will stop them this season is themselves.

The Blues trounced Bury 4-0 on Saturday to move up to third in League Two and then dumped higher league Swindon Town out of the Carling Cup with an emphatic 3-1 win down in Wiltshire to maintain their unbeaten start to the season.

Gorman said: "The only thing that is going to stop us is over-confidence. We mustn't get carried away with the good football we are playing.

"We've got a good squad, everyone is enjoying their football and the way we are playing, always on the attack, we will always create chances.

"But it is a long season. We've started well but nothing is won in August or September. We've set our standards and we've got to keep that going."

The Blues have roared out of the blocks this season and played some of the best football produced by a Wycombe side since the halcyon days under Martin O'Neill.

Gorman said: "I am delighted with the way we've started. Some of our football has certainly been worthy of a higher league but it is early days yet.

"Teams have had bad starts and done brilliantly and teams who have had brilliant starts have done badly. Football has a habit of kicking you in the face.

"You never know what's around the corner with injuries and things like that."

But with the transfer deadline

Give me five: Blues boss John Gorman and Nathan Tyson celebrate as Wycombe extended their unbeaten start to the season to five games with a sparkling Carling Cup first round victory at Swindon Town on Tuesday. Now the Blues go into the hat for Saturday lunchtime's second round draw where they will be joined by 12 Premiership teams.

coming in on August 31 – and clubs not allowed to sign players again until January – Gorman has already moved to fend off that problem.

He completed the signing of Argentinian midfielder Sergio Torres yesterday. The new boy will go straight into the squad for tomorrow's trip to Shrewsbury Town as Blues begin a hectic programme of three matches in six days with the visit of Cheltenham Town to come on the Bank Holiday Monday (Ko 3pm) and Northampton arriving next Friday (Ko 7.45pm).

Gorman is also hoping to invite an experienced forward with higher league experience in for training next week along with another defender he fancies as he leaves nothing to chance.

He also continues to run the rule over ex-Middlesbrough defender Dean Gordon who has been training with the club. But red tape prevented him playing for the reserves in their 2-0 defeat at Crawley.

All three players are currently out of work so there would be no problem with Gorman getting them after the August 31 transfer window has closed.
