

Blues miss out on pot of gold

WANDERERS have yet to earn a penny in bonuses this season after failing to reach the board's performance targets.

The club have scrapped the team's traditional win and draw bonuses this season and replaced them with monthly points targets set by the board.

But the Blues failed to hit their 11-point target for August despite going through the month unbeaten and have therefore only received their basic salaries so far this season.

Wanderers missed the points target by a single point.

● Blues youth coach Alan Paris is a champion again.

Paris, who coaches the club's U12s, was part of the Leicester City side which won the over 35s Masters Grand Final at the Manchester Evening News Arena which beat holders Chelsea 3-2 in the final.

Leicester now qualify for the European Masters.

Paris also plays for Flackwell Heath Veterans next match in their match against Real Madrid (See page 188 for the full story)

● Ian Culverhouse's youth team maintained their unbeaten record in the South East Conference with a 2-1 win at Brentford.

Goals from Sam Tucknott and Andy Savage took the team back to the top of the table with ten points from four games.

They entertain Brighton at the training ground tomorrow (ko 10.45am).

● John Gorman was at Upton Park on Monday to see Blues' Carling Cup opponents Aston Villa lose 4-0 to West Ham.
