

WE WILL BOUNCE STRAIGHT BACK

ASSISTANT boss Steve Brown has warned Blues' promotion rivals to expect the backlash after Wanderers were knocked off the top of the table for the first time since November.

The Blues crashed 2-0 at Wrexham on Saturday lunchtime allowing Carlisle United to leapfrog them at the summit on goal difference.

The defeat extended Blues' winless run to four games, after three previous draws, and means that Wycombe are now hovering just one point above the play-off zone in a three-way tie at the top with Carlisle and Grimsby.

But Brown insisted there is no panic among the troops.

He said: "We have played 31 games and that was our worst game. But we won't let it affect us.

"It's like riding a bike. If you fall off you get straight back on again. That's the only way to do it and we will do it.

"There's no crisis. Every team has a lean spell and hopefully we've had ours now."

He insisted his team can handle the pressure now they have been joined at the top of the table.

He said: "It's closing up at the top but we've got more than enough ability and experience in the dressing room to handle it.

"We will have a good week on the training field and come out fighting."

Midfielder Matt Bloomfield summed up the determination in the Wanderers dressing room after Saturday's set back made it just three points taken out of the last possible 12 on offer.

He said: "That's the worst run we've had all season but good teams come through the bad times and we will make sure we do.

"We will bounce back. We were gutted to lose and to do it the way we did is hugely disappointing but one bad performance and one bad result does not make your season.

"We have got to keep it in perspective. We have had so few defeats. The performance was a one-off and we won't let it affect us."
